The rock engraved image to the right is called a fravahar or farohar (also spelt faravahar). It is an image found on rock inscriptions and carvings commissioned by the ancient Persian Achaemenian kings. The image is usually portrayed above the image of a king, and the figure in the farohar is identical to the king below in features as well as clothing.

Last Month. Original PMBOK: We have been working on a project to resurrect the original Project Management Body of Knowledge (dubbed "PMBOK") published by the Project Management Institute in 1987, and make it available as a PDF document. Remember, this original PMBOK document was issued before personal computers were readily available, and the PDF file format was not yet invented.
